Poster Abstract Deadline
Extended to Mon., March 25th!

Keynote Speaker:
Dr. Claudia Kawas
Al and Trish Nichols Chair in Clinical Neuroscience
Professor of Neurobiology & Behavior and Neurology
University of California, Irvine

The 17th Annual Research on Aging Showcase will be held on Friday, April 5, 2024. This year’s Keynote Speaker will be Claudia Kawas, MD, Professor of Neurology and Neurobiology at the University of California, Irvine. Dr. Kawas will present on “Dementia and Resilience in the Oldest Old: The 90+ Study.”

The keynote address will take place in Sheldon Hall (Room W1214) at the Bloomberg School of Public Health from 12:15pm –1:20pm EST, followed by the poster and networking session in the Turner Concourse (720 Rutland Ave.) from 1:30pm – 3:30pm EST. The poster session is open to students, fellows, and junior faculty from Johns Hopkins, University of Maryland, and the NIA/NIH.

The poster abstract submission deadline has been extended to this coming Monday, March 25, 2024. Abstracts/posters that have been previously presented are allowable for this session.

- If you have any questions, please email: agingshowcasejhsph@gmail.com.
- Use the following link to submit poster abstracts: Abstract Submission link.

Registration is recommended for each event:

News & Announcements

Congratulations to COAH trainee Francesca Marino on successfully defending her thesis on 3/13!

Thesis title: "Daily Physical Activity Patterns as Markers of Early Cognitive Impairment"
COAH trainee Fangyu Liu’s Final Defense Seminar will take place on 3/26 at 10am in JHSPH Room W3008!

Thesis title: “Etiology and prevention of late-life frailty: a proteomic approach”

COAH/EBA trainee Pat Donahue’s thesis defense is scheduled for 4/4 at 12pm in JHSPH Room W2008!

Thesis title: “Investigating the associations between respiratory function and wearable accelerometry measures with cognition in older adults”

Happenings
“Improving Care for Older Adults: from Clinical Geriatrics to NIA Efforts”

Tues., April 9, 2024
12pm/Noon
Grossi Auditorium
Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center

Amy S. Kelley, MD, MSHS
Deputy Director
National Institute on Aging

Please join us either in person or virtually on Tues., April 9 at 12pm for the 48th Annual Mason F. Lord Lecture with Dr. Amy Kelley, Deputy Director of the National Institute on Aging (NIA); her talk is titled, “Improving Care for Older Adults: from Clinical Geriatrics to NIA Efforts.”

Dr. Kelley works closely with the NIA director, provides strategic leadership, supervises daily operations, and serves as an ambassador and spokesperson for the Institute. Additionally, she oversees diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility initiatives. Dr. Kelley has extensive experience using the nationally representative, longitudinal Health and Retirement Study (HRS) and National Health and Aging Trends Study (NHATS), both linked with Medicare claims data, to examine factors associated with treatment intensity among older people living with Alzheimer’s disease or a related dementia, and other serious illnesses. Her meritorious research—which bridged geriatrics and palliative medicine by focusing on the needs of seriously ill older adults and their families—was supported by NIA through multiple grants, including a Paul B. Beeson Emerging Leaders Career Development Award in Aging. She has been recognized broadly for her exemplary work, including by the American Geriatrics Society with the 2022 Thomas and Catherine Yoshikawa Award for Outstanding Scientific Achievement in Clinical Investigation.

The Mason F. Lord lecture is co-hosted by the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine’s Division of Geriatric Medicine & and Gerontology, the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing, the Morgan State University Department of Nursing, the University of Maryland Division of Geriatrics and Palliative Medicine, the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy-Peter Lamy Center on Drug Therapy and Aging, the University of Maryland School of Nursing, and the University of Maryland Geriatrics and Gerontology Education and Research Program (GGEAR).

No RSVP is required for in-person attendance. To attend via Zoom, please click the button below at noon on April 9th to automatically join the meeting in progress.

Starting Fri., March 22nd through June!

https://mailchi.mp/e535336c3ec7/the-coah-chronicle-march-22-2024?e=cc20c4de95
This four-part webinar series will:

- Give an overview of Career Development Awards available from NIA
- Offer advice for preparing successful applications
- Share information on the review process
- Provide success stories from previous applicants

The presentations aim to provide valuable information to both early career researchers seeking K award funding and their mentors. The topics, dates, and registration link are below:

- Career Development Awards at NIA/NIH
  Friday, March 22 from 2-3pm ET
- Strategies for Preparing Strong Career Development Applications
  Tuesday, April 2 from 2-3pm ET
- NIH/NIA Grant Review Process
  Thursday, May 9 from 12-1pm ET
- Stories of Successful K Awards
  June 2024, TBA

Featured Speaker:
Huda Yaha Zoghbi, MD

Ralph D. Feigin, MD Endowed Chair
Professor of Pediatrics, Molecular and Human Genetics, Neurology, and Neuroscience at Baylor College of Medicine

Founding Director of the Jan and Dan Duncan Neurological Research Institute at Texas Children’s Hospital

Dr. Huda Zoghbi, an internationally known investigator who has helped to illustrate the importance of accumulation of abnormal proteins as a cause of many aging-related neurological conditions, will present at the William H. Adler, III, MD Inaugural Lecture on Science and Aging. Dr. Zoghbi is a pediatrician who has spent her career doing basic medical science highly relevant to the aging population. We are thrilled to welcome Dr. Zoghbi as the lecture’s inaugural speaker. Please join us!

Maryland Launches Longevity Ready Initiative: Planning for Maryland’s Growing Older Population

The Division of Geriatric Medicine and Gerontology at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center welcome Maryland Department of Aging Secretary Carmel Roques as presenter for this year’s lecture. She was appointed to this role by Governor Wes Moore in 2023.

In January 2024, the governor signed an executive order establishing the Longevity Ready Maryland Initiative and directed the Maryland Department of Aging to develop a long-term plan to address the needs of the growing older population and the infrastructure that supports them. About these goals, Secretary Roques said:

“Integrating a longevity lens into every government department, promoting coordinated responses, and helping the state shape how public services are delivered will help us prepare, serve and utilize our aging population.”

Join Secretary Roques to learn about the goals, the rationale and the planning process of this ambitious, important initiative.

Seating is limited and is on a first-come, first-served basis (no RSVP required), or attend via Zoom (no registration required—just tap the button below at 4pm on 4/18 and join the live broadcast).

Request for Letters of Intent (LOI)
JHU OAIC Awards, Grant Year 2024-2025
LOI Due Date: Friday, April 12, 2024

The National Institute on Aging-supported Johns Hopkins Claude D. Pepper Older Americans Independence Center (OAIC) is soliciting Letters of Intent (LOI) for scientific projects related to physical frailty in older adults. These proposals should aim to elucidate the etiology of frailty, develop interventions/management strategies for frailty, or develop methodologies to better study physical frailty in older Americans. Proposals leveraging large databases to evaluate inflammatory etiological pathways as well as modern biomarkers for frailty, advancing translation of frailty concepts or measures for improved clinical care and management, technology focused on the treatment/management of frailty, or addressing health equity concerning frailty in older adults are particularly welcome. Applicants from historically underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Mechanisms for funding are:

- Pilot/Exploratory Studies Core Award (max $40K), which supports faculty conducting a frailty-related research project
- Clinical Translation Core Development Project Award (max $35K), which supports methods-focused research on clinical translation related to frailty
- Technological Assessment and Solutions Core Award (max $35K), which supports methods-focused research on technological projects related to frailty

In addition to these funds, awardees will have access to biostatistical/analytical, molecular measurement, clinical translational, and technological core support.

LOI Submission Process:

- The LOI should be targeted to one of the awards described above, be up to 2 pages in length, and include the following components:
  - Overview and study aims
  - Statement of significance to the field of frailty research
Summary of research, study design, and data analysis approach
- For junior faculty applicants, a named mentor and brief overview of proposed career development activities

- LOI and NIH Biosketch should be submitted as either Word or PDF documents to the JHU OAIC Administrator, Brian Buta, MHS, by Friday, April 12, 2024.

Review Process and Next Steps:
- LOIs will be reviewed in mid-April, 2024.
- Selected projects will be invited to submit full project proposals, due by Friday, May 24, 2024. (Detailed information on full proposal requirements will be provided.)
- The award period for funded applications will be July 1, 2024 to June 30, 2025.

We welcome the opportunity to discuss the suitability and relevance of proposed scientific projects ahead of the LOI deadline. Please direct questions to Brian Buta, MHS.

The NIA has earmarked $40 million to fund technology demonstration projects that utilize artificial intelligence (AI) approaches and technology to improve care and health outcomes for older Americans, including persons with Alzheimer's disease and related dementias (AD/ADRD), and their caregivers.

Applications for the fourth annual a2 Pilot Awards are due by April 30, 2024.

There will be a Q&A webinar on March 25th at 12pm ET.
The Research Centers Collaborative Network (RCCN) of the National Institute on Aging, offers grant award opportunities throughout the year, as well as supports inter-NIA collaborative, cross-center pilot awards.
